From the Desk of the Pastor ...

Greetings and blessing to all of you,

Hopefully the heat isn't going to be too bad and the roof (at the church) will soon be fixed. And there are other things that need fixed - No! Not me. Too late! But things we have some control over. Things we can plan for and things we do have logistics and strategies for.

In specific - one area we can have ignored; long range planning. Yes - we are on a good roll right now. But we must look down the road. What is the vision/dream/goal for 5 years from now? 10 years? The psalmist noted "without vision the people will perish". Jesus often spoke to the 12 about the future and the details. We need to do the same and we do. Vacation for instance. Much planning, finances, logistics, time frame.

However we have not done the same for the church. Our questions are hanging without answers. Where will we be in 5 years? What new ideas need time to develop into programs? What about a management plan for the debt? Where does God want us to be in 5 years?

Sometime in the "distant" (?) future a "settled" Pastor will arrive. What if this person had a set of congregational goals to begin his/her ministry with? Personally I have never experienced this situation, but I can easily imagine how a new pastor might feel. Wow! A congregation that knows what it needs and wants! A congregation not fearful looking at the future! Must be in touch with the Spirit! I have shared this long range planning with your consistory. I believe, in the near future, the pieces will fall into place.

Having a plan serves to guide our actions with a defined deliberateness that causes success is Biblical. It's like Jesus "He set his face to Jerusalem" and in His plan He (and the 12) moved step by step to reach a goal. The goal was Easter. Not a random thing, but carefully planned and executed event.

Let's follow the Lord's example. We can plan our future, or do nothing and let the future plan us. The latter, of course, is the path traveled without the Spirit.

Obviously, this is not us. Amen.

Blessings,

Pastor Rick

Deuteronomy 12:7 There, in the presence of the LORD your God, you and your families shall eat and shall rejoice in everything you have put your hand to, because the LORD your God has blessed you.

Hello St. Jacobs Family,

May was a very exciting month for our church. We had so many things happening. From Pastor Rick and Cindy's open house to a wild night of shake, rattle and roll with a great band and some yummy food. Thank you to those that cooked a wonderful meal for our mothers on Mothers Day. The Grocery Bingo was exciting and fun! Who knew Pastor Rick was looking for a part time gig as a bingo caller? Thanks for the laughs that evening. Our ELC had their spring plant sale that has been very successful and our kids have also been able to plant a few and are watching them grow. Fresh veggies are right around the corner.

June is close at hand and I don't know about you but time is just flying by. We have our Strawberry Social coming up and the ELC will be holding an end of the year bash for their students, families and our church families are more than welcome to come join the fun. We also have Fathers day breakfast for all the men in our lives that are making a difference, or have made a difference in the past, and support us in our lives. VBS will be during the last week of the month and is held at St. Jacobs Lutheran church in the evenings. What a way for our churches to give back to the community surrounding us by inviting the youth to join us for VBS.

Sincerely,

Heather Kuhn

Consistory President

May 2018 Budget Update
(Combined General and Building Funds)

The chart below shows a simplified over view of our budget numbers for the four months of 2017.

The numbers through the end of March showed a combined surplus in the General and Building Funds of $2,242 between budgeted expenses and actual offerings. The surplus was in large part due to the success of our PA Dutch Dinner on April 21st. Thanks again to everyone who contributed toward and helped with the dinner to make it such a success.

In the month of April we did not need to take anything from our building savings account to meet expenses.

Back Bay Mission Trip Update

Back Bay Mission Trip 2018 Update for June

The group has had another busy month with fundraisers for the Mission Trip. The chicken BBQ on May 5 raised $152, we received $130 from the Sock Hop on May 12th, we raised $3,478 from the Grocery & Vendor Bingo on May 19th, and finally we raised $111 from the raffle of the “Chalk Talk” drawing. Thank you to everyone who helped plan, coordinate, and participated in each of these activities.

We still have the following fundraisers coming up in the next few months to help cover the cost of the trip, so please mark your calendars:

June 10 Buffalo Wild Wings (all day)

June 23 Sandwich sale?

July 18 Mickey’s Pizza

Currently we have 14 people who are interested in going (ranging in age from 16 to 67), with the possibility of a few more going. For anyone you know of that may be interested in making the trip with us who is not a member of the congregation we would ask that those individual(s) cover the cost of the per person fee from Back Bay Mission, which is $250.

Please remember that we will continue to collect personal travel size items (feminine hygiene pads, deodorant, shampoo, soap, Kleenex, toothbrushes, toothpaste, combs, hand lotion, bushes, wet wipes) and we are also asking for donations of sweatshirts and t-shirts. On our first trip we learned how much of a need there was for these items for the homeless, many of whom sleep on the beaches in and near Biloxi.

Our challenge is still in place for the congregation: for those who can to donate $5 per person each week toward the mission trip to help cover our expenses.

More updates on our progress will follow – if you have any questions please don’t hesitate to ask any of the people who have signed up to go on the trip (the list is outside the choir room).

Thank you for your dedication and support,
The Back Bay Mission Team

Search Committee Update

“Your search committee is busy scheduling and preparing for interviews. Two of the last profiles are of interest and are worth looking into beyond the paper profile. We are also making arrangements with an additional candidate that we are looking into outside of the normal process. Our Conference contact that was serving in the role of Designated Associate Conference

Minister for Congregational Discernment/Search and Call has left that position and a new contact should be provided to us within a few weeks. The committee will not let this slow us down. Thank you for your continued prayers and if you have any questions please contact any of the search committee members: Scott Becker, Glenn Geiple, Michele Harper, Burt Hengst, Pat Lentz or Kathryn Forry.”

ALTAR GUILD

From the Desk of the Church Historian

“Mine eyes have seen the glory of the coming of the Lord”. Those familiar words always start me humming the tune from the Battle Hymn of the Republic, written by Julia Ward Howe during the Civil War. An event a few weeks ago brought the song home in a different way than I had thought about it before. Lynn’s cousin Jay, a history teacher and Civil War re-enactor, had unfortunately died in an automobile accident and we attended his funeral. The hymn was used as the recessional hymn at the end of the service. I knew some of the history of the hymn but I did some more digging to try and find the full details of how it came about.

The story behind the hymn starts in early 1861 with the 12th Massachusetts, a volunteer unit that trained at Fort Warden, in Boston Harbor, where the 2nd U.S. Infantry – a regular army unit was also stationed. The 2nd Infantry had picked up a snappy tune – a camp meeting revival hymn, written in Charleston, South Carolina, around 1858, entitled “Say, Brothers, Will You Meet Us?” The soldiers liked it because it was a fine song to march to, and they had fitted new words to it: “John Brown’s body lies a-mouldering in the grave ... and we go marching on.”

One misconception that most people have (myself included) was that the words were written just about John Brown, the famous abolitionist. Actually the words were inspired by a runty sergeant in the Union Army who happened to have the same name as the famous abolitionist. The original wording to song that the troopers had come up with included phrases with humorous double meanings.

Anyway, the 12th liked the song, and learned to sing it, and they had a fine band to provide accompaniment. They sang the song at reviews in Boston, and New York City, as they made their way to Washington D.C. And in a short time the song became well known among the troops stationed around Washington.

One afternoon while taking a carriage ride around Washington with a group that included her husband and her pastor Julia heard the song and liked it, but her pastor suggested that she could come up with better words.

Early the next morning she awoke with the new words she had been hoping for coming to her, so she got up and wrote them down, and then went back to sleep. (Julia said this is how she came up with many of the words for the poems that she wrote - the back round to this is that she was the mother of 6 small children, and overnight was probably the only quiet time she had). When she got up the next morning she remembered thinking about song again, but could not remember the words she had come with early in the morning, then she found the paper that she had written them down on.

The rest, as they say, is history. As Paul Harvey used to say – “And now you know the rest of the story”.

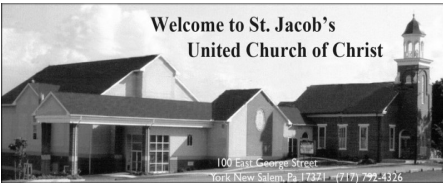

Information for this article came from numerous sources, including The Army of the Potomac: Mr. Lincoln’s Army, by Bruce Catton.
